DEDICATION

Mr. Albert Thomas Edwards is a native of Warren County, North Carolina. He received his Bachelor of Science Degree from Hampton Institute, Hampton, Virginia in 1936 and his Masters of Science Degree from Cornell University. Juniors

THE JUNIOR CLASS is considered the most important class on the high school level, because they are taking their final steps toward becoming a senior. I. C. Norcom feels this class is her pride and joy for she will release them from under her wings into life. This year, unfortunately, I. C. Norcom High has to bid her juniors good-bye, because they will go on to life's door under a foreign school's wings.

THE DEATH OF A HIGH SCHOOL

The day had begun with a setting sun,
Lost was mind in a forest of confusion
And so I sat in the corridor waiting Empty like the living deaf for a word,
I thought, If she should die, I would too,
For what food is to the hungry,
What water is to the thirsty,
She is to me.
What sight is to the blind,
What rest is to the weary,
She is to me.
For what life is to the dying,
What love is to the unloved,
She is to me.
You can't take the sweet from the sugar,
Or the bitter from the lemon,
And you can't take her from me.
Cause like sugar and its' sweetness,
A lemon and its' bitterness,
We stick together
We are one.
The doctor approached me,
His eyes spoke the word,
Then silence,
Deafening silence.
I wept tears of sadness for you,
Hateful, ignorant foolish you,
Don't you know that killing the body
Does not kill the soul?
Once more I wept—
Not tears of sadness, but of joy
For I realized the soul of I. C. Norcom will live on.
I awoke, the day was ending with the rising sun.

CLASS POEM
"Today Marks A Beginning"

CLASS SONG:
OH! Now the time has come

For four years this has been our home. How fast the time does fly. Since now we find we must depart, today we say good-bye. We've been together for so long. A family throughout the years. And as we walk these aisles today — it brings us all to tears. It was here we learned and searched and found that dreams come true. And that there are great rewards in the little things we do. We have no desire to cease learning nor are we faint in quest, for today marks a beginning — Our search for but the best. We have not placed our swords in the sand, for the battle has just begun. There is much for us to conquer, before the setting sun.

Thank you, I. C. Norcom—
And as we go our way,
Our minds shall always remember
This very special day.

By: Mary Grimes

Oh! Now the time has come when we must say good-bye. This is the school we've loved all our lives, we have tried to be, what you'd like to see. Oh! We have come; but not to say good-bye. Like a stormy sea singing a melody, now the time has come to say well done, we are on our feet, now with a steady beat, let it be like a calming feat.

Standing up for the glory, our Lord has brought thee, standing up for the rights that we tried to restore thee; going the right way, facing a new day; bringing us joy, bringing us harmony.

Mr. A. T. Edwards — PRINCIPAL

Principal's Message

Your last year of school has been one fraught with disruptions and walk-outs. This certainly has in some measure broken the continuity of your academic achievement. However, I am happy to say that many of you have still maintained your high level of achievement and are graduating with honors.

We all entered the school year 1971-72 with mixed emotions and concerns about what would be the future of the school we all love so dearly, Norcom High. The new direction of the curriculum at Norcom is career oriented. The administration, faculty and students will determine the future in education in our country. It is our desire that we will point the way in science, technology and career preparation on the secondary level.

Norcom has been blessed by the contributions you have made through your many talents. Your individual and group accomplishments have showered honors on us. For all this, the Norcom family is very grateful.

You now begin your new venture in life where you have to make the decision to further your education or enter the world of work. Plan well for your future so that you will not have to live with regrets. In your plans, include service to your fellowman. So, as you come to this new beginning for you, I wish for you a successful and happy life.

Finding solutions to solvable problems that teachers might have with students.

Waiting to start faculty meeting.

Mr. John L. McGriff Assistant Principal

Discussing business at faculty meeting.

Message From The General Administrator for Discipline

The people of our nation are more involved in the social and political issues than ever before. This increased involvement demands a higher degree of individual responsibility.

If the Democratic process is expected to succeed, it will require mature and reflective thinking on the part of all members of our society.

We must try in every way to cultivate and develop positive attitudes. We must constantly be mindful of the fact that, we must respect others, if we are to demand respect from others.

The members of our school community have tremendous potentials. This includes the students and the teaching staff. These potentials will not develop to their full capacity unless there is a unification of efforts to reach desired objectives.

Each individual has a contribution that he must make to the success of the total school program. Negative attitudes and selfish motives have no place in our educational patterns.

Our graduating seniors are on the threshold of their careers. This is the beginning of a new age.

Always remember that together we stand and divided we fall.

Still at work even after school hours.

Message From Assistant Principal for Instruction

Congratulations to the class of 1972!

You have attained an important goal in life's sojourn. Your graduation marks both the end of many goals achieved and the beginning of better things that lie ahead, both for you personally and Norcom High School.

You can draw strength and courage from those many Norcomites who have forged through the rough ways before you.

The class of 1921 was the first class to graduate from I. C. Norcom High School on Chestnut Street whereas the class of 1938 marked the beginning of the new high school on Chestnut Street. The mid-year class of 1953 was the last class to graduate from that building while the June 1953 class initiated the present era here on Turnpike Road. It is certain that each change was met with mixed emotions.

You can look back proudly upon your predecessors just as generations of Norcomites will draw on the rich legacy which you have left. Next year begins a new and exciting era in Norcom's illustrious history and only history can judge the success of this new venture.

Live up to the finest in Norcom tradition. Continue your quest for knowledge. May you acquire wisdom, and may God be with you.

Catherine Woodhouse

Guidance has long been recognized as an important function of education. It is a point of view, a process, a way of working with people, and an approach to the solution of problems. It is a means of helping the individual make intelligent choices in his day-by-day living. This process must be satisfying to him and contribute to his present adjustment and future progress as a member of society.

The guidance process at Norcom offers the following services to the individual student: educational, vocational, cultural, personal-social, and health. These services aim to assist the student in understanding his own abilities in learning to make decisions about his education and his future, and in finding his place in society.

In September, 1959, the Guidance Department launched an organized program designed to raise the cultural level of our youth. The Department, through its newly created Culture Club, and in cooperation with other departments, teachers, and student groups has presented an annual Fine Arts Series. The Modern Dance group, the Senior Chorus, the Dramatist Society, the Instrumental Music Ensembles, and the Art Department, have participated each year in the Fine Arts Series and have presented programs that received outstanding recognition and praise.

The Business Department at I. C. Norcom High School supports the principles of both basic education and vocational education by offering a total of ten courses which include beginning and advanced typewriting, shorthand I, record keeping, bookkeeping, general business, business law, clerical office practice, and Clerk-Typist I & II. All courses offered are available to all students. The department serves more than one-third of the school's enrollment.

The staff is composed of a teacher-chairman, five full-time teachers, and two cooperative office education coordinators. All members of the staff are endorsed as teachers of business. The school has developed a philosophy which indicates the place of Business and Office Education in meeting the needs of the youth at I. C. Norcom High School.

Foreign Language Department

The Foreign Language Department aims to contribute to the needs of today's youth by developing in students the ability to understand, speak, read and write the target language with reasonable accuracy and to attain the following goals:

To develop a feeling of importance of language as means of world communication.

To extend knowledge of other nations' geographical, political and cultural heritage.

To appreciate and understand language as itself being a manifestation of a people's culture.

To understand the influence of other languages and cultures of American life.

To stimulate students to listen comprehensively and to think critically.

In addition to regular classroom instructions, the Foreign Language Department encourages student membership in the Spanish Language Club, El Circulo Espanol, and the French Club, Le Cercle Francais.

The Greyhounds In Action!

Hey, let go of my leg.

I bet you can't catch me now.

Hey, move out of the way.

There is no time for pushups now.

I bet you can't take the ball from me.

Hey, wait for us.

71-72 Football Team

The football season started in early September and ended in late November. Out of 9 games the Greyhounds won 5 and lost 4. The team consisted of 41 players, mostly second year men. They played very well. Although this year showing was not as good as it has been the Greyhounds had very experienced and dedicated men. The most exciting and outstanding game of the year was Norcom and Wilson. This game proved that Norcom had the "finest and Strongest men. They went into the game with determination and came out with a victory. Tony Holloway, rookie, replaced Richard Lattimer after an injury, with the help of the team brought us this victory. The game ended with a 20-8 victory for the Greyhounds. Our coach Mr. George Moody provided the team with the instruction and guidance they needed. Although we didn't have a winning season, we, the Student Body, feel that the coach and the team has done a very good job this year. And we would like to show our appreciation and would like to thank you, Greyhounds, we Thank You.

Orlena Bracy

Coach Moody concentrates on a few plays for the next game.

The Junior Varsity looks forward to playing varsity for the next year usually, but because of the firing of six starting players they got a chance to move up this year. They had a very good showing when they decided to take over.

They are L to R, Ricky Richardson, Thomas Winborne, Barry Elliott, Micheal Wilson, Robert Wilson, Frazier Nelson, Sherman Wright, Richard Rodgers, Carl White, Charles Orton, Freddie Miller, Barry Dunston, and Doni Cross. Kneeling are Brown, Coach Schwab and Larry Taylor. This team proved to Norcom that they can play as well as varsity.

The six that had all of the jive are standing Eddie Daughtry, Norman Moore and Ronald Goodman (team captains), Steven Strong, Zeke Hudson and Tony Tapp (kneeling).

Varsity Basketball Team

The team that brought the Greyhounds to the first round of the Eastern District Championship game are L to R; Larry Warren, Tony Tapp, Steven Strong, Archie Sexton, Eddie Daughtry, Raymond Nelson, Anthony Holloway, Norman Moore, James Overton, McCoy Powell, Ronald Goodman, Thomas Gore, John Holland, James Hudson, Van Edwards. Seated JV coach Schwab, Thomas Dennard, Charles Banks, Micheal Royster, trainers, and Head Coach Robert Baker.

Larry Schwab, JV Coach and Robert Baker Varsity coach. The coaches heeded their problems in stabilizing the team. At least ten different players were a part of the starting line-up throughout the season.

Archie Sexton prepares to torture their opponent's pitcher.

The baseball team had a very good showing this year.

They won the District title. Lattimer, pitcher, pitched us to victory every time.

The team waits for their chance to show what they can do.

The players have the look of victory in their eyes.

I. C. Norcom Tennis Team

Veteran Orion Willis tries not to miss the ball.

Anthony Tapp, veteran, tries it at a new aim. Hey, it works!

For the first time this year Norcom girls participated on the team.

Coach LeMasters discuss a few plays with Alischis Collins.

Player Ronald Williamson serves the ball to whom?

Ronald Goodman takes time to give the team a few pointers.

THE CHEERLEADING SQUAD

The girls that cheered our teams to victory are left to right: Karen Scott, Anita Fowler, Phyllis Hicks, Valerie Forrest, Wanda Jones, Brenda Raiford, and Lynette Downing. Kneeling are Eather Jenkins, Gail Howard, and Valerie Boyd. Brenda Raiford and Phyllis Hicks were captains of the JV squad.

Captain: Eather Jenkins

Co-captain: Valerie Boyd

THESE MEMORIES

Quiet
without a sound
a deep interfeeling
of peace and calmness
the horror of silence
with its own sounds.
THESE MEMORIES STAY ON MY MIND

Peace
also solitude
within these corridors echo throughout a feeling of fear is transmitted through the soul
of I. C. NORCOM HIGH as it shall always be remembered as the greatest school around.
THESE MEMORIES STAY ON MY MIND

Praised
when it succeeds down-graged
when it falls through good times and bad
THESE MEMORIES STAY ON MY MIND

STAY ON MY MIND

Souls not of stone but yet of flesh
enter into these corridors making the inter-being of NORCOM once again alive and happy
THESE MEMORIES STAY ON MY MIND

Brightened
with the laughter of flesh barriers in search of one goal an education and after four years of ups and downs the reward
a diploma.
THESE MEMORIES STAY ON MY MIND

And so the memories
of I. C. NORCOM HIGH linger on and on never to be forgotten or lost.
